

Todos Los Dias — Executive Summary

Month 1 | May 13–30, 2026 | Opening Baseline

Confidential — Maksut, Esen, Erim & Management Team

Welcome to the Programme

Todos Los Dias has completed its first 18 days of Daily Pulse check-ins. This summary is your opening baseline — the foundation that every future month will be measured against. The scores you see here are a starting point, not a verdict. What matters most right now is that the habit is forming, the data is coming in, and the team is showing up. That is exactly what this programme is built on.

Your First Month — What the Data Shows

85 check-ins across 18 days · Scale: 1 (low) → 5 (high)

- All five dimensions sit between 2.9 and 3.5 — a solid and encouraging opening for a new programme
- Work Environment is the highest dimension at 3.48 — your team feels genuinely positive about where they work from day one
- Physical (2.92) and Recovery (2.92) are the lowest dimensions — areas to watch and actively support as the programme develops
- The direction of travel across three weeks is upward — scores improved from Week 1 through to Week 3

Participation — Building the Habit

- FOH: 69 responses (81.2%) — front of house is leading the way ✓
- BOH: 16 responses (18.8%) — the kitchen team is still finding its routine, which is completely normal for Month 1
- The single most important participation goal for Month 2: consistent daily check-ins from both teams — especially BOH
- When leadership and management visibly model the check-in habit, teams follow — this is the most powerful thing you can do right now

Something to Note — Saturdays

- Saturday is the lowest-scoring day of the week — Physical 2.28, Recovery 2.61
- This reflects the combination of your busiest service day and the natural fatigue that builds across a full working week
- Worth being mindful of operationally — even small adjustments to staffing or shift structure on Saturdays can make a meaningful difference over time

FOH and BOH — A Healthy Balance

- FOH and BOH scores are close together this month — a positive early signal
- There is no significant gap between the kitchen and the floor. This is something worth protecting as the programme grows
- FOH and BOH are one team. The health of one directly affects the other — keep building both

Looking Ahead — Three Priorities for Month 2

- Build the BOH check-in habit — encourage the kitchen team to check in daily so their voices are equally represented in the data
- Encourage reason-giving — when staff score low, completing the reason field makes the data significantly more useful for everyone

- Establish a consistent check-in moment for each shift — a brief team moment at the start of lunch service and dinner service would strengthen the routine
-

This is just the beginning — and every check-in brings us one step closer to a healthier, happier workplace for everyone at Todos Los Dias. Thank you for participating.

Tracey

Founder, The BreakRoom Wellness